

AN OLD FRIEND IN NEW DRESS

Did you receive a pleasant surprise when you found a four-color picture on white paper, instead of the familiar solid green cover which has characterized the Bulletin for the past two years? Were you a little confused to receive "The Camellia Review" instead of "Southern California Camellia Society Bulletin?"

Now that your surprise is over, we sincerely hope you are liking the new effect. Without benefit of advance publicity, your old friend has changed its name and taken on more colorful raiment, added several features to its content and generally gone on a vitamin diet which your editors trust will give it the vigor of youth combined with the wisdom of years.

Beginning its twelfth year of publication, your official bulletin wishes to thank the membership for past support and pledges itself to strive always to merit your continued attention and interest for the future.

CONTENTS

	Page
Observation on Resistance of Camellias to High Temperature by Milo E. Rowell	3
Soil Conditioning, by R. Sanford Martin	7
Reticulata in Raleigh, N. C., by L. Dow Pender, Jr.	9
Classification and Recognition of Camellias, by Robert Park Erdman	11
Hints on Disbudding, by Julius Nuccio	15
A Horticultural Hobby, by John H. Clairmont	17

DEPARTMENTS AND NOTES

As I See It, by Arthur S. Kane	2
Questions and Answers, conducted by A. H. Dekker	20
1950 Show at Brookside Park	5
News of the Societies	6
Our Cover	13
The American Camellia Catalog, A Review by Camillus	16
Registrations & Garden Committees	2
